DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is responsive to the applicants' amendment filed on August 18, 2005.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim 22 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hagerty (Patent Number 713,301) in view of Tanaka (Publication Number JP 05-180183).

Regarding claim 22, as shown in Fig. 1 and 2, Hagerty discloses a variable capacity rotary compressor including a housing to define first and second compression chambers having different capacities therein, the compressor comprising: a rotating shaft (2) to be placed in the first and second compression chambers, and a restraining unit (4) outwardly projected from the rotating shaft by a centrifugal force when the rotating shaft (2) is rotated to execute a compression operation, restraining eccentric bushes (4) provided in the compressor to prevent the eccentric bushes (3) from slipping. However, Hagerty fails to disclose a locking hole being provided at a predetermined position of the shaft.

As shown in Figs. 1-4, Tanaka teaches that it is conventional in the rotary compressor art to utilize a locking hole (5 – see abstract) being provided at a predetermined position of the shaft (4), to movably receive the restraining unit therein. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, to have utilized the locking hole, as taught by Tanaka in the Hagerty apparatus, since the use thereof would have received the restraining unit.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-5, 7 and 9-12 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicants' arguments with respect to claim 22 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicants' amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action. (7.40).
